just a dream You sit in your kitchen chair, light makes waves in your hair, this is what I see, when you visit me in my dreams. I know it's been a lifetime, I don't mean to make you cry, I need to find my way back, to see you one more time. Chorus: It was always always just a dream, but I swear, I swear it felt so real. My coat still hangs at the door, this house is not mine anymore, this is what I see in faded old memories. I know it's been a lifetime, I don't mean to make you cry, I need to find my way back, to see you one more time. Chorus...real that I reached out, I knew without a doubt, that you were there with me, no more longing as we sleep. Chorus...

how we love Oh how we love, oh how we fight, in shipwrecks and waves, all through the night. With nothing left, there's nothing to lose, no shelter in sight, we're swept by the tide. Chorus: There's a sadness, it sits on the corner of your smile, I see the light shift when I tell you that I will love, I will love you tomorrow. Oh how we love, oh how we hurt, there's no sleep tonight in this room full of words. We know it's lost, I hear you sigh, I'm all emptied out, I can't cry. Chorus...I don't know where we went wrong, maybe we chose proud over strong, we can be brave, and say goodbye, you say you're ok, but you can't hide. Chorus...

sad thin & reckless Here we are in lockdown, charged and confined, if you try to prove my innocence, I won't pay you back in kind. If you choose to walk away, I'll take it as a sign, that one of us was stronger so that we can both survive, so let's settle for distraction, just to settle our minds, and at the end of every day, I'll silently resign. Chorus: This love that surrounds us is sad thin and reckless, as we battle our demons and run out of reasons, we bargain for time without conviction, just long enough to find a sad thin and reckless addiction. When I wake the nightmare lingers, there's pressure on my teeth, I wait until it registers that the pain is buried deep between the lungs that couldn't hold this heart that wouldn't weep. Chorus...

run It's cold and bright, I'm breathing against it with all my might, your words in my hands my feet on the ground, singing out loud, the sun in my eye. My heart will stretch, push through my chest, Chorus: I will run like I've never run before, I will run til I'm standing at your door, I will run like I've never run before, I will run til I reach you. I want to feel time turn to wind, feel it race against my skin, running free under the stars, with a lion in my heart. My heart will stretch, push through my chest, won't let me rest. Chorus...

JUST A DREAM

You sit in your kitchen chair
Light makes waves in your hair
This is what I see
When you visit me in my dreams

I know it's been a lifetime
I don't mean to make you cry
I need to find my way back
To see you one more time
It was always always just a dream
But I swear, I swear it felt so real
It was always always just a dream
But I swear, I swear it felt so real

My coat still hangs at the door
This house is not mine anymore
This is what I see in faded old memories

I know it's been a lifetime
I don't mean to make you cry
I need to find my way back, to see you one more time
It was always always just a dream
But I swear, I swear it felt so real

Always always just a dream
But I swear, I swear it felt so real
Always always just a dream
But I swear, I swear it felt so real
Always always just a dream
But I swear, I swear it felt so

Real, that I reached out
I knew without a doubt
That you were there with me
No more longing as we sleep

Always always just a dream
But I swear, I swear it felt so real
Always always just a dream
But I swear, I swear it felt so real

HOW WE LOVE

Oh how we love
Oh how we fight
Shipwrecks and waves
All through the night

There's nothing to lose
No shelter in sight
We're swept by the tide

There's a sadness
It sits on the corner of your smile
I see the light shift
When I tell you that
I will love
I will love
I will love you, tomorrow

Oh how we love
Oh how we hurt
No sleep tonight
In this room full of words

We know it's lost
And I hear you sigh
I'm all emptied out
I can't cry

There's a sadness
It sits on the corner of your smile
I see the light shift
When I tell you that
I will love
I will love

I don't know where we went wrong
Maybe we chose proud over strong
We can be brave, and say goodbye,
You say you're ok, but you can't hide

There's a sadness
I see the light shift
When I tell you that
I will love
Oh oh I will love you
I will love
I will love you
I will love you, tomorrow

SAD THIN & RECKLESS

Here we are in lockdown Charged and confined
If you try to prove my innocence
I won't pay you back in kind
If you choose to walk away
I'll take it as a sign

That one of us was stronger
So that we can both survive
So let's settle for distraction, just to Settle our minds
At the end of every day
I'll silently resign

This love that surrounds us is
Sad thin and reckless
As we battle our demons
And run out of reasons,
We bargain for time without conviction
Just long enough to find
A sad thin and reckless addiction

When I wake the nightmare lingers
There's pressure on my teeth
I wait until it registers
That the pain is buried deep
Between the lungs that couldn't hold
This heart that wouldn't weep

This love that surrounds us is
As we battle our demons
And run out of reasons,
We bargain for time without conviction

RUN

It's cold and bright
I'm breathing against it
With all my might Your words in my hands my feet on the ground Singing out loud the sun in my eye

Oh woh oh oh,
my heart will stretch
Push through my chest
I will run
like I've never run before
I will run
til I'm standing at your door
I will run
like I've never run before
I will run til I reach you

I want to feel time turn to wind
Feel it race against my skin
Running free under the stars
With a lion in my heart

Oh woh oh oh, my heart will stretch
Push through my chest
I will run like I've never run before
I will run til I'm standing at your door
I will run like I've never run before
I will run til I reach you
Til I reach you

My heart will stretch
Push through my chest
Won't let me rest woh oh oh oh
I will run like I've never run before
I will run til I'm standing at your door

RUN B-SIDE

Night broke through the summer heat
I woke up from a striking dream
I ran like I've never run before

On the way I thought about
All the words you wrote and voiced out loud
I ran til I stood at your front door

Am I too late?
To hold you tight
And stay awake
With you all night
Am I too late?
To hold you tight
And stay awake
With you all night

I couldn't do what I felt inside
Instead I said what I thought was right
And time, time was like the air

I felt it build and turn to wind
I felt it race against my skin Breathing in was more than I could bear

Am I too late?
To hold you tight
And stay awake
With you all night
Am I too late?
To hold you tight
And stay awake
With you all night
